

Timothy Floyd. Mr. Floyd is a professional geologist with over thirty-two years of experience in the environmental field mainly in the areas of site investigation, project management and air pollution consulting and permitting. He is a graduate of the University of Alabama with a degree in geology. Mr. Floyd currently serves as the Tuscaloosa office manager of Poly, Inc. Mr. Floyd worked as a plant and corporate environmental director for pipe and casting foundries prior to moving into the environmental consulting and engineering business in 1995.